Foreword

Publishing information

This British Standard is published by BSI Standards Limited, under licence from The British Standards Institution, and came into effect on 31 October 2018. It was prepared by Technical Committee ACE/20, Unmanned Aircraft Systems. A list of organizations represented on this committee can be obtained on request to its secretary.

Information about this document

The requirements specified in this British Standard do not preclude the provision of additional training or the assessment by a service provider of additional competencies. This British Standard represents a tool for comparison of existing (or future) qualifications of unmanned aircraft systems (UAS) pilots.

Presentational conventions

The provisions of this standard are presented in roman (i.e. upright) type. Its requirements are expressed in sentences in which the principal auxiliary verb is “shall”.

Commentary, explanation and general informative material is presented in smaller italic type, and does not constitute a normative element.

Where words have alternative spellings, the preferred spelling of the Shorter Oxford English Dictionary is used (e.g. “organization” rather than “organisation”).

Contractual and legal considerations

This publication does not purport to include all the necessary provisions of a contract. Users are responsible for its correct application.

Compliance with a British Standard cannot confer immunity from legal obligations.
